cident:
"Previous to the first battle of Manassas, when the free; under Gen. Stonewall Jacks n had made a fo ced marsh, on halting at night they fell on the ground exhausted and faint. The hour arrived for setting the watch for the night. The officer of the day went to the General's tent and said, "General, the men are all worried, and there is not one but is a sleep. Shall I wake them?"—
"No," raid the noble Jackson, "let them sleep, and I will watch the camp to-night." And all night long he tode around that lonely camp, the lone senting for that brave, but weary and silent body of Virginia heroes. And when the glorious ing broke, the soldiers awoke fresh and ready for action, all unconscious of the noble vigils kept over their slumbers."

Twas in the dying of the day, The darkness grow so still, The drawsy pipe of evening birds Was hushed upon the hill; Athwart the shadows of the vale, Slambered the men of might-And one lone sentry paced his rounds, To watch the camp that night.

A grave and solemn man was he, With deep and sombre brow; The dresmful eyes seemed hoarding up Some unaccomplished vow. The wistful glance peered o'er the plains, Beneath the starry light-And with the nurmured name of God, He watched the camp that night.

The future opened unto him It's grand and swful scroll; Manassas and the Valley march Came heaving o'er bis soul-Richmond and Sharpsburg thundered by With that tremendous fight, Which gave to him the Angel hosts,

Who watched the camp that night. We mourn for him who died for us, With that resistless moan; While up the valley of the Lord, He marches to the Throne!

He kept the faith of men and saints, Sublims and pure and bright, He sleeps - and all is well with him, Who watched the camp that night.

COMPOUND CEDRON BITTERS! The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the Nineteeath Century. NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY connected with the history of the Materia Medica of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in medical discovery, than that of JOHN BULL, of Louisville, Kv. His inmitable preparation of Satsaparilla has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug. His compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry has become a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their intronction, attained a reputation as widespread he continent of North America. But the crown ng glery of his life remains to be attained in hi itest discovery, or rather combination, for l loes not claim to have been the discoverer CEDRON, which is the basis of the Bitters no offered to the public. That honor belongs to t native inhabitants of Central - merica, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it, the Indian bid desiance to the most deadly malaria, and handle without fear the most venomous serpents. It a belief with them that while there is breath be in the body the Gedron is potent to care, no mat While Dr. Bull is not prepared to indorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satis ed from a thorough examination of the evide relating to its virtues, that, as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure either to changes of weather and climate or to the miasmatic influences, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has o long enjoyed in Central America and the West SEATON & BRODRICK
